WILL BE ASKED TO RETURN,

Patrick J. Halligan, editor of the in Louisville.

The distinguished visitor was introduced by Alderman Butler and was received with enthusiastic applanse. Mr. Haltigan prefaced his lecture by referring briefly to the Catholic many concessions to the leet four members to serve with him Ancient Order of Hibernians, reading a congratulatory message from National President Cummings to State President Butler and the order in Kentucky, urging thear to increase her membership 5,000 before the next national convention, which meets ut audience and put all on the qui viv for those that were to follow.

Editor Haltigaa sald that In presenting his lecture he was influenced hy the fact that too little is known even among the Irish people of the To Receive Bids on Trinity magnificeat deeds performed by men of Irish blood in the history of America and in the establishment of the American republic. They played prominent parts, he said, from tlane of the original thirteen colonies up to the present day. Were it not for men of Irish blood, he asserted, it is propable that Americans would have found themselves today in the said among other things that during the past forty years, or since the elose of the civil war, there had been well-planaed movement in this country to distort American Revolutionary history as far as possible, and especially to ignore the Irlsh elemeat in the establishment of the nation. The movement, he said, did not spring from the hearts of the American, people, It was not born on this side, but it was a direct importation from the enemies of the Irish race across the sea. The same power which monopolized as far as possible Irish genius at home to its own glory now seeks to destroy it in this country, where it is beyond its control, contended the speaker.

The address was illustrated with one hundred views, to many of which the utmost interest attached. A pleasing feature of the evening was the musical numbers, whilel were excellently rendered by Miss Nellie Morgan, John J. Flynn and Thomas D. Clines. Sc enthused was the audience that it wanted to join with Miss Morgan in singing the "Star Spangled Banner." Messrs. Flynn and Clines sustained their rep ntations with "The Sword of Bunke Hill" and "Ireland a Nation Again, and both received hearty encores. Division I, A. O. 11., is to be con gratulated upon its achievement in oing so much for the descendants o the Irish race here, and to the mem bers it is especially gratifying that terests of his order.

Mr. Haltigan will be called upon to repeat his splendld lecture without any charge to the public. There is no question but that the visit of Mr. Hultigan has awakeaed an interest in Hibernianlsm that will be Insting, and for which those who heard him Many New Delegates Present feel greatly indebted.

During his stay here Mr. Haltigan was entertained and shown the prin cipal points of the city by Alderman Butler, William M. Higgius, Martin Cusiek, Thomas Dolan, John M. RELIGIOUS CHARITY.

Sunday of a visit and novlee from the Apostles, to give the fnithful an Thomas Mulry, the President, and Rev. Father McMahon, the Spiritnal Director of the Superior Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, two of the best known charity workers in the great American metropolis, New Yory City, and also Patrick J. Haltigan, for years prominent in the undertakings of the Vincentians in Washington. These gentlemen explained the difference and effect of religious charity as compared with that made for mere show and gala.

Religious charity not only relieves the distress and suffering of the poor and unfortunate, but seeks to remove the cause of their poverty, whether of the members. Men were urged of doing penance. to take proper care and see that Lent is the fast of forty days pro-

This grand religious society confers spiritual benefits material things have passed away.

BACK DOWN.

Though the daily press has not had much to say about the uniter, it is nevertheless true that the Freueb Government has receded somewhat in its nutugonism of the Catholle Church. In the Chamber of Deputles last Tuesday a stinging rebuke was administered a section of the members for their intolerance, and the Government was anthorized to carry out the provisions of the agreement which provided for the leasing of churches that had been seized to the parlsh priests. While the question was being diseussed, and before the vote was it was unworthy of Republicans, or even free thinkers, not to respect the fnith of millions of their fellowcountrymen. O'Brien and his colleague in the representation of Cork are not members of the party, says the Dundalk Democrat, one of the leading Nationalist papers upon ils members that last when all of Ireland, but two nominal members of it had given such support to O'Belen's unhappy schisms, and had proved themselves so refractory to party discipline us to render it necessary that they should be excluded from the party in future. Accordingly Messes. Sheehan and John O'Donnell were formally by resolution expelled. Though we regret the loss of even one member of the Irish phalanx, it is easy to understand that their inclusion in the party might have been a source of weakness rnther than added strength; and the Irish members are quite within their right, under the constitution, in dealing with these gentlemen as they have done.
